

VALUE CHAINS

Value chains have the potential to intensify regreening practices

Promising value chains include:

Bamboo

Poles and Timber

fruit

Honey

Program Support

- 10 honey producers were established at Jeju, Shashogo and Ambassel. Trainings on quality honey production, bee management, bookkeeping, and market linkage were provided in addition to over 150 beehives and accessories.
- 3 bamboo furniture producers' groups were established in Hula and were supported with machinery and training. All groups are functional and producing household and office furniture. Market linkages in Hawassa were additionally established.

- To enhance, the capacity of local producers Regreening Africa organized a Local Value Chain Development Forum
 - Buyers, producers, manufacturers, regulators, and donors were brought together to share lessons, discuss successes and challenges, and share visions for further improvement.

